

SOUTH FLORIDA SunSentinel

Mexico's low-cost Interjet starts daily flights to Miami

By Doreen Hemlock

March 05, 2012

Mexico's low-cost carrier Interjet has started non-stop daily service from Mexico City to Miami International Airport, using an Airbus A320 aircraft that seats 150 passengers.

Interjet says it offers more legroom than any other Mexican airline.

The six-year-old airline now holds second place in passenger market share in Mexico and serves almost 30 destinations, including Guatemala and San Antonio in Texas.

For more information, go to interjet.com.